

Specialist Anaesthetist
National Women's Health Anaesthesia
Auckland District Health Board

We have a full-time position available and are looking for a Specialist Anaesthetist with a specific interest in Obstetrics and Gynaecology, acute and chronic pain management in women and is keen to be involved in research and teaching.

National Women's Health at Auckland City Hospital is a tertiary/quaternary provider of Women's Health and Neonatal Services in New Zealand. The hospital has specialised Maternal Foetal Medicine and gynaecological Oncology services, and there are approximately 8000 births annually. A wide variety of pathology is seen and we have good multidisciplinary support.

We provide anaesthesia and analgesia for obstetrics and gynaecology for National Women's Health. Approximately 4000 neuraxial procedures are done by us annually. In addition we have an active pain team for the management of both acute and chronic pain. We are a very friendly department with a wide skill range provided by both full and part-time consultants, registrars and pain nurses.

You must be eligible for vocational registration with the Medical Council of New Zealand. More information about registration is available on www.mcnz.org.nz.

ADHB is an accredited employer with NZ Immigration service so we can help with your immigration requirements and can also provide relocation assistance.

For further information please contact Dr Anthony Taylor, Clinical Director Anaesthesia, Women's Health on 00 64 21484693 or email AnthonyT@adhb.govt.nz

To apply, please visit our website www.adhb.govt.nz/careers and apply on line attaching your CV quoting reference number 013175. For help with your online application or to request a position description, please contact Sonu Anand, Recruitment Consultant on sonua@adhb.govt.nz

Closing date is 30 November 2009